President's Report

As another year comes to a close the delicate art of negotiating recreational fishing access continues as it has for the previous few years. Negotiating is a better word than “fight” in this reports context as we try and stay positive and upbeat, but such negotiations take up an incredible amount of our time at ANSA NSW and the other dual roles the ANSA NSW Executive have taken up. Roles at the Recreational Fishing Alliance of NSW, ANSA National, Australian Recreational Fishing Foundation, State and Federal government appointed committees and the list goes on and essentially these are all underpinned by a common theme – retaining recreational fishing access to the water, land and resource.

Whilst we are faced with losing access in our state and commonwealth waters due to marine parks and sanctuary zones, gates and fences in our state national parks and along our rivers we are also losing the fight to social media and the instant gratification that 2016 / 2017 seems to have embraced. Put a picture of a great fish up and get 1,000,000 hits and 100,000 questions on where, how, what lure, what boat, what tide and give me your spot in the ultimate presumptuous request. Put a story up of a fishing spot that is about to closed and get a luke warm response at best. This is where associations like ANSA NSW have taken up the slack and used its clubs and influence to lobby, petition and just about bang on the doors to keep these spots open. Clubs have and will always be the most coordinated avenue to respond to these threats.

Why the lesson in fishing interaction and its evolution and its effects on groups like ANSA NSW – I continue to hear that clubs these days cannot compete with the millions of fishing groups that social media has created. Yes I agree we need to evolve as an association but we should never lose sight of the fact that just because you belong to 1, 10 or 100 fishing groups on social media means nothing to most of us at ANSA NSW unless you are willing to roll your sleeves up and do the dirty work that the ANSA NSW clubs continue to do. It's not glamorous writing letters or attending meetings, workshops and consultative groups but it is what it takes to keep our access unhindered to the resource, land and water we fish on and in.

Looking forward to 2017 / 2018 ANSA NSW is committed to restructuring and developing a way to tap the momentum social media has provided us as anglers and look at ways of drawing out the future letter writers, future meeting attendees and future lobbyist's out there who right now might be sitting back and just doing this all day, without talking to single person for days on end. Its not all doom and gloom and the “likes” are often harnessed by our own ANSA NSW clubs as recruitment tools, what is of concern to me is that many clubs are saying we cannot compete with social media and are bleeding members. In this annual report you will see how much work is happening out there that benefits states 1 million anglers, and yet we make up 0.001% of the biomass in NSW and yet we carry the hopes and aspirations of all on our shoulders.

I did promise to remain upbeat and every single ANSA NSW member, Club Committee member and State Executive member should be extremely honoured and gratified that a small 0.001% can be pivotal in swaying how the NSW and Federal Governments decide on all of the stakeholder's access to the land, water and resource. This is why all of us should put our hands up to lead, build our clubs up and try and leave the fishery in a better way than we found it.

This is why we do it, not for the "likes" and even though it will be challenging, fads like this come and go, I know I have fished for 45 of my almost 50 years and hope to keep doing it till I can't, but I also know my own fishing club has opened up my eyes to what is going on around us, increased my fishing opportunities 100 times over and built friendships that social media cannot. Keep this in mind and join ANSA NSW in 2017 / 2018 is building bigger and stronger fishing clubs as beacons in preserving and bettering our fishery in NSW.

Vice President's Report

The 2016/17 year was once again a very busy year for ANSA at a National and State level. There seems to be a never ending pattern of challenges to recreational fishing and our fisheries that if left unchecked, the resultant outcomes will have dire consequences for all current and future generations of recreational fishers.

It is impossible for ANSA to tackle all these threats and challenges alone and it is imperative that all recreational peak bodies - state and national - which have recreational fishing at heart, rally together and speak as one voice in advocating for the promotion and protection of recreational fishing and preservation of the marine environment and fish resources across all boundaries.

In NSW we are indeed fortunate to be supported by the NSW Recreational Fishing Alliance (RFANSW) which is the collective voice of recreational fishing in NSW and on a national front we have a strong ally in the Australian Recreational Fishing Foundation (ARFF). ANSA is a foundation member of both these organisations and plays a pivotal role in looking out for the interests of recreational fishers and engaging with government and the many government agencies that have influence and say in the direction and management of our fisheries and the marine environment.

Also at state level we have a voice on the NSW Ministerial Fisheries Advisory Council (MFAC) and the Recreational Fishing NSW Council (RFNSW) and representation on the NSW Recreational Fishing Saltwater Licence Trust Expenditure Committee (FSTEC). At a national level we have member representation on the Ministers Advisory Council and direct engagement with the Australian Fisheries Management Authority (AFMA) and Department of Agriculture Fisheries and Forestry (DAF) on issues pertaining to the management of our Commonwealth fisheries. ANSA's membership relationship with IGFA also ensures that we have a voice and an ally on the international scene

ANSA is also at the leading edge of fish habitat preservation and rehabilitation initiatives both nationally and at a state level via its membership of Ozfish Unlimited and the NSW Fish Habitat Partnership. ANSA is a foundation member of both these organisations whose charter is to lead the charge on projects and funding essential for the rehabilitation and preservation of our national waterways and to rejuvenate fish stocks back to levels they were in our grandparent's time - no mean feat but at least the game has started.

It is no easy task interacting with the many differing factions that are putting recreational fishing in jeopardy but it is gratifying how successful we can be as a collective voice by presenting well thought out alternative scenarios and possible solutions in an objective and persuasive manner. It is not surprising that within the ranks of government and those agencies that drive and influence recreational fishing policy and outcomes there are many individuals who themselves are recreational fishers and are behind the scene allies and supporters. We just need more of them and with a mind to be helpful and supportive.

We won't win on every issue and at times the best achievable outcome is preservation of the status quo so that recreational fishers' interests are not going backwards. Some of the more significant issues that ANSA is actively involved with and which have a national and NSW impact include:

- Commonwealth Small Pelagic Fishery and industrial scale trawling for SPF species. ANSA been at the forefront of the long and successful national campaign to curtail the activities of large scale factory/ trawler vessels in key recreational fishing locations. We have seen the departure of the Margiris and the Geelong Star and more recently the scrapping of the proposal to Pair Trawl NSW south coastal waters. This threat to our small pelagic fishery just seems to keep resurrecting itself and we need to be constantly on the alert to any new potential threat to exploit SPF species on an industrial scale. The clear message is that the optimum socio economic use for SPF species is to just leave them in the water.

- Commonwealth Marine Reserves. After more than a decade of deliberations and campaigning with Federal governments of all sides as well as the Commonwealth Department of Environment, a revised draft plan of management for the Coral Sea, Temperate East, South West, North West and North marine reserves has finally been released for public consultation. This latest draft plan is far more favourable to recreational fishing than any previous plan released by the Labor or Coalition governments and has finally taken into account the basic principle that recreational fishers should not be locked out of the reserves without justifiable science. While it is true that we didn't get everything we were asking for the revised plan does give recreational fishers a vastly improved level of access, particularly in the Coral Sea and Northwest reserves which were the main areas of contention. There is also considerable scope for managed recreational fisher access to green protection zones under the umbrella of citizen science and for artificial reefs and FADs to be located within the reserves to compensate for loss of access to some established reef areas etc. It is an imperative for all recreational fishers that we continue to counter the campaign from the conservation lobby for these latest draft plans to be overturned.
- Resource sharing - A hot topic now that the IOTC (Indian Ocean Tuna Commission) has set a 2018 deadline for the Australian Southern Bluefin Tuna quota to include the catch taken by recreational fishers. This will require a sharing of the SBT quota between the commercial and recreational fishing sectors and will set an important precedent for the shared management of other significant commercial fisheries at both a commonwealth and state level. How such a sharing arrangement can be facilitated and managed will be a major challenge for all stakeholders including government.
- Murray Darling Basin - With the recent revelation of alleged water theft and corruption within the ranks of those responsible for management of MDB water allocations it a grave concern that environmental flows of water intended for the lower reaches of the MDB may not materialise. This is a major threat to those of us that fish this river system and we need to ensure that measures are in place to protect our inland river systems and the unique marine diversity that goes hand in glove with these important river systems - put simply no water/no fish habitat/no fish.
- White Spot Disease. To control the spread of this disease we have successfully campaigned for tighter controls on the import of foreign prawn product and the restriction on the sale of imported green prawn for bait and the introduction of an education awareness program for recreational fishers on the use of prawn baits.
- National Code of Practice for recreational fishing. A revised NCOP has now been finalised and will shortly be released to the broad fishing public. ANSA will be replacing its existing NCOP with the latest version.
- Government acknowledgement of the need for an adequately resourced Commonwealth Recreational Fishing Council to give recreational fishers the level of representation and advocacy that aligns with the socio economic value of recreational fishing
- More equitable recreational fisher representation on national and state bodies responsible for fishery and environmental management and enhancement of the skill and knowledge base of recfisher appointees
- Support for the conduct of a national / state by state study into the socio economic value of recreational fishing
- Recognition of recreational fishing in Commonwealth and State Fisheries Management Acts
- Support for enhanced investment in fisheries research and recognition of the role and value of citizen science
- Involvement in the rollout of the national campaign to eradicate carp from our river systems and the restocking with native species
- Engagement in the development and delivery of a national recreational fishing education programme

- Support for the campaign to stop dredging of Abbot Point and the dumping of spoil on the Great Barrier Reef to facilitate the shipping of coal from the environmentally controversial Adani coal mine project

On the NSW scene specifically we have been actively engaged with issues such as:

- Ongoing lobbying for NSW government recognition of the RFA NSW as the official State peak body for all NSW recreational fishers
- Engagement in plans for creation of a Hawkesbury Bioregion Marine Park - including a Sydney Harbour marine park and a campaign for the Harbour be declared a recreational fishing haven
- Lobbying for no netting in the Hawkesbury, Shoalhaven and Tuggerah Lakes and for these waterways to be declared recreational fishing havens
- Continued pressure on agencies such as the EPA, Sydney Water and Councils for the detection and prosecution of offenders for water contamination and fish kill events and also for financial penalties when imposed by the Land and Environment Court to be directed into local habitat rehabilitation and other fishery related projects rather than consolidated revenue. Already we have potentially secured $200000 for extension of the DPI Mulloway stocking program in Botany Bay from such penalties.
- Pursuing financial offsets for loss of recreational fishing access. It is our goal to build upon the $5mill for loss of fishing access within Botany Bay which is earmarked for the installation of 2 additional artificial reefs off Southern Sydney and other recreational fishing amenities.
- A watching brief on the draconian "on Street" boat trailer parking regulations which now effectively restrict parking on public streets for a maximum of 28 days across NSW. While only a small number of councils across Sydney are running pilots of this restrictive practice all boat owners and the boating industry should be very concerned if this discriminatory regulation is adopted state wide.
- Campaign to ensure that recreational fishers are not unjustly prohibited from fishing off public jetties and wharves
- Engagement with relevant authorities concerning the regulatory requirements for compulsory wearing of lifejackets by rock fishers. While there is considerable merit in having rock fishers wear lifejackets it is critically important that the type of jacket to be worn is of a recognised Australian standard that is specific and tailored for rock fishing use
- Continued rollout of the Angel Ring programme and safe fishing awareness/ education
- Expansion of the ANSA NSW Newtag programme
- Support for the installation of mesh screens on inland waterway irrigation pumps to minimise mortality impact on juvenile freshwater fish species etc.
- Support for the campaign to introduce Platypus friendly yabby traps
- Involvement and input into the ongoing review of NSW commercial fishing

This is a once again a remarkable level of activity by a very small group of individuals who also play vital roles in keeping ANSA at the forefront of recreational fishing by ensuring that its sport fishing activities and member services are in tune with member needs and for ANSA to be the organisation of choice for all recreational fishers.

Secretary's Report

Another eventful year has past and the committees' commitment has once again been put to the test. Needless to say, the committee passed with flying colours.

Once again, ANSA was called to stand up, defend and curtail various issues to ensure that our members' rights and those of every recreational angler in NSW and throughout the country were upheld and protected. Our membership can be assured that ANSA has been well represented at both a State and Federal level.

The committee has worked hard to ensure that membership renewals were processed. This was a big challenge for our membership officer Pat Ashbury and treasurer Tony Steiner. Big thanks to both of you.

The committee ensured that all the latest updates for the ANSA NSW 12 Month Competition, ANSA Convention Circuit and Records were distributed as regularly as possible. This is a massive job. Well done to our recorders for records and competitions, Bruce Tozer and Travis Anderson. Thanks for your commitment throughout all the year.

Our project co-ordinators, Stan Konstantaras, Tony Steiner and Chris Anagnostou have performed exceptionally well with our Angelring, Fishing 4 Therapy and Newtag projects in the last year. Recognition at all levels of Government, both at a State and Federal level has been massive. More lives saved through the Angelring Project, successful and useful data gathered through our Mulloway Tagging Project and great results for our Fishing 4 Therapy Project. Well done gentlemen.

To the remaining committee and other volunteers, THANK YOU! Your commitment is very much appreciated and I look forward to working with you all once again.

Promotional Material

As you must all be aware, ANSA promotes itself through what it does and stands for, but if you are looking to promote ANSA through your clubs or at conventions or your local community do not forget that ANSA has promotional brochures available and there is always ANSA ware that can be purchased. If you need any more information on promotional gear, please get in contact with me and I will guide you through the process.

Committee Meetings

The Committee meets quarterly during the fishing calendar year with its most recent meeting being August 2017. Don't forget clubs are more than welcome to attend committee meetings as they see fit. It probably would not be a bad idea to come and see how things are run at a State level. It can be very rewarding and many hands make light work. We are always looking for new enthusiastic club members to join the committee and help run ANSA NSW.

The Email Database

The ANSA NSW email database currently hosts all ANSA NSW affiliated Clubs. Most of the Clubs on the database have minimum one contact. In total, the database hosts more than 120 points of contact, which includes Sportfishing NSW members. As in previous years, the electronic mailing system has really helped ANSA NSW operate more efficiently, economically and has aided their capability for distributing up to date information quickly. Hundreds, if not thousands of emails are distributed to all our member clubs each year. If you are not receiving electronic information from ANSA NSW please let me know and I will most definitely add you as a contact to the database. Do not forget, ANSA NSW has an email protocol and your addresses will be used for distribution of ANSA NSW information only.

Club Newsletters

It was very encouraging to see that ANSA NSW Clubs are sending out more newsletters than ever before. It was especially encouraging that information distributed by ANSA NSW featured in the newsletters. Well done to all those club volunteers that put their newsletter together. Keep up the great work!

The Website.

The ANSA NSW website is the central information hub for all ANSA NSW members. It is a vital tool for distributing information, so make sure you visit at least once a month for any new updates. Not all information is distributed direct via email.

The ANSA NSW website has been maintained regularly through the past 2016/2017 year and is currently up to date. Anything you would need to know about how ANSA NSW operates, how to start a club, how to join ANSA, competition updates, and record updates etc is on our website. We even have a photo gallery with some great photos of fish our members catch.

Facebook.

ANSA NSW has a Facebook page. Currently the Facebook page has more than 390 likes, but we would really like to see more people like the page. So if you haven't liked the page yet, do it right NOW!! Log on and like ANSA NSW on Facebook.

<https://www.facebook.com/ANSANSW>

The ANSA NSW Committee is always here to service our membership efficiently and effectively, so please do not hesitate to approach the committee about anything.

Enjoy your year and stay safe,

Treasurer's Report

Following is the Financial Report for the Year of 2016 - 2017 as well as the budget for 2017 – 2018. The year finished with a combined bank balance of $ 26,394.91, which is broken down to the Main account $ 11767.10 & the Project account $ 14,627.81.

Actual against budget saw a slight decrease with revenue, mostly due to a fall in membership for Clubs and their affiliation fees while ANSA Direct had an increase.

The additional fall in income this year, against Budget for the Main account, was due to a $2000 budgeted payment for Newtag, resulting in a budgeted income of $17,239 versus actual of $14,596.29.

Costs against budget were mostly on track, leaving a deficit of approximately $ 3700.00 total, for the main account.

At end of year the Project Account funds for Fishing 4 Therapy were allocated except for approx $1050.00 with Angel Rings still holding funds due to an order still pending for more rings. The other noticeable increase in costs against budget was for the Website / Internet costs to budget. The extra costs were due to works on the site and ongoing maintenance.

As Treasurer I would like to thank the other Committee members for their ongoing support & help through the year and I look forward to what I hope is going to be a growth in member involvement for 2017 - 2018.

Membership Registrar's Report

MEMBERSHIP REGISTRAR's REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2017

2016-17 membership numbers were a bit of a mixed bag with 1 or 2 big increases but overall memberships were a little lower compared with 2015-16. Direct memberships were up again. On the club side, we lost 3 and gained 3. Total memberships as at 30 June 2016 stands at 1,168 members in 32 clubs.

Recorder's Report - Competitions

Another year of competitions has been run and won with the amount of participating anglers, clubs and fish entered into the various divisions being very similar to last year's numbers.

12 Month Competition

This year again saw 65 anglers submit fish representing 11 ANSA clubs.

A total of 209 fish were recorded. The bulk of these fish (77) were placed into the Tag & Release section primarily by both John Rankin and Lynette Robb from the Eden Sport & Gamefishing club who dominated this division.

The most popular fish species entered was a reversal of last year with Striped Marlin (29) being the most popular followed by Dolphin fish (28) and coming in third again was Australian Salmon registering 14 Captures.

Tag & Release was again by far the most popular division.

Like last year, this year's 12 month comp really did come down to the wire with the final outcome for Champion Club not being decided until the final entries were tallied at the July 14 deadline.

Like last year it was a two club race between both Wollongong and South Sydney to decide champion club. It was great to see last year's runners up; South Sydney edge out Wollongong to secure the champion club trophy for this year. A great club result with many anglers actively submitting fish to achieve this excellent result. Special mention to Edo Rutstein the South Sydney AFA recorder for ensuring all good club captures were being submitted keeping me busy in the process.

It was pleasing to see all 25 divisions were won and in particular the 5 new sections added this year were completely filled

A total of 426 ANSA members attended the 6 conventions that make up the ACC this year. This was a drop of 142 attendee's or 25% in total overall attendance when compared to the previous year.

This is unfortunately a massive decline in numbers but hopefully this can be turned around with some new initiatives being implemented by the state committee. The advent of both a Summer Slam and Freshwater Slam series will hopefully rekindle some more participation into the future.

The Summer Slam involved attendance at Nowra, Narooma and Sydney tournaments. Unlike the ACC point scoring system which only awarded points for the top five fish in six nominated divisions, this standalone series only involved recording a capture at all three conventions to be eligible with the winning angler then being drawn at random. The winner of the first Summer Slam was Lachlan Quinn from the Botany Bay Club who collected a great micro jigging outfit for his effort.

The Freshwater Slam is comprised of fishing at Lyell, Glenbawn and Burrinjuck Dams with this series concluding after the running of the Burrinjuck Convention in November.

In addition to the two newly introduced Slam concept formats, we will also have again seven eligible conventions for inclusion into this year's ACC with the inclusion of the South Coast Mighty Bonanza fishing competition to be hosted by the newly ANSA affiliated Tomakin Fishing Club.

This competition will be run at the very end of September and has great prizes on offer. It will fill the void left by the Talbingo Convention which folded a couple of years back.

As usual I still had issues receiving convention updates from several clubs (not all) after the running of their respective conventions. Can the recorders of all host clubs put it on a to do list that all results need to be forwarded onto the ANSA competitions recorder within a fortnight of the conventions conclusion. The longer it takes for me to receive this information the longer it takes to put out a convention circuit update for members.

A big congratulation to all the winners and place getters in this year's ACC. Unfortunately however, like last year, there were no girls who achieved the minimum of three convention attendances and as such this division was not awarded.

I am looking forward to seeing plenty of entrants into the various competitions for this coming year in both the ACC and the various 12 month competitions. That being said at the end of my current two year term I will not be renominating as the NSW State Competitions Recorder so there will be an opportunity for someone to take on this role. It is a great experience to see what goes on behind the scenes and also an eye opener as to just how much work some of the state committee are involved with.

Masters Keeper's

On behalf of the ANSA NSW Committee, congratulations to our members who obtained Masters Awards this year:

Chelsea Rutstein (South Sydney Amateur Fishing Association)

- Junior Master Angler Sportfishing

Belinda Rayment (St George Sport Fishing Club)

- Master Angler All Tackle Length

Josh Colling (St George Sport Fishing Club)

- Master Angler All Tackle Length

Phil Turner (St George Sport Fishing Club)

- Master Angler All Tackle "50" Length

Wayne Colling (St George Sport Fishing Club)

- Master Angler All Tackle Length
- Master Angler – Gamefishing 30
- Master Angler – "250" Sportfishing 20

These are all fantastic personal achievements, however there were a number of notable Masters Awards this year including that of Wayne Colling on achieving his "250" Sportfishing 20 and Chelsea Rutstein' first Masters Award.

It is great to see St George Sport Fishing Club members having very strong representation this year and encourage all clubs to promote the Masters Awards across their membership. Also please keep an eye on your individual captures as many of you no doubt are only in need of that last elusive capture or two to be eligible to lodge your claim.

Regards,

Rob Sinclair
ANSA NSW Masters Keeper

Angel Ring Coordinator's Report

The Project has been in travelling at a very slow pace due to the insurance requirements enforced upon us by the Minister and Crown Lands Office in the early part of 2016. We have been asked to secure additional insurance for the Project and have been either trying to or negotiating an outcome for the past 18 months. Our discussions and negotiations with Crown Lands to date and recent representations to the Ministers Office have seen a concerted push to resolve this issue. Our latest correspondence with Crown Lands was on the 27th March 2017 and was positive in heading towards an outcome.

The project continues to replace angel rings in response to calls from the community with an average of 1 every fortnight being replaced. The most recent one was at Kurnell on the 16th April 2017 and Little Bay last week. We continue to monitor rescues as well.

A young man has been transported to St George Hospital this morning (12/3) after being swept off rocks near Kurnell. About 7am, emergency services were called to waters near Cape Solander after reports of an angler in distress. The 20-year-old man, who was not wearing a life jacket at the time, was swept off the rocks as he was fishing. Another angler was able to throw an 'angel' ring flotation device out to the man while a nearby diver also assisted. Police from Marine Area Command were able to pull the man onto a police boat before transporting him to shore. Paramedics treated the man before transporting him to St George Hospital in a stable condition

Water rescue - Snapper Point

Tuesday, 21 March 2017 09:17:52 AM

A woman has been rescued after falling into the water while rock fishing on the Central Coast last night. The 27-year-old woman, who was not wearing a life jacket, was fishing with a man at Snapper Point, within the Lake Munmorah National Park, when she slipped and was swept into the water. The woman was able to swim to a rock ledge where her partner threw a life ring to her, which she has held onto until the arrival of police and the Westpac Rescue Helicopter. The woman was winched to safety then flown to John Hunter Hospital as a precaution. She is not believed to have suffered any injuries.

Long wait for life saving device after drowning at Wentworth Falls Lake

B.C Lewis 14 Feb 2017, 8:30 a.m.

'It could save a life or just serve as a reminder that all our waterways are dangerous': ANSA's Stan Konstantaras is pleased that after a drowning and years of inaction life saving guardian angel rings will finally be installed by council at Wentworth Falls Lake.

After years of inaction Blue Mountains Council will install “guardian angel rings” at Wentworth Falls Lake within a fortnight. It follows the tragic death of 16-year-old HSC student Michael ‘Mikey’ Ryall of Lawson, who drowned while fishing at the popular spot in April, 2014. His family requested council allows the Australian National Sportfishing Association (ANSA) to install the two life-saving devices at two different locations by the edge of the lake, as well as a memorial seat. Council agreed to the move a year ago but never told the Association they had given it the green light.

ANSA’s Stan Konstantaras, who looks after the angel ring program nationally, told the Gazette they did a thorough investigation at the lake after the drowning and found several places where the angel rings would be appropriate – near the dam and the other on the opposite side of the spillway. While the rings were normally placed in coastal locations, frequented by rock fishermen, there had been “precedents set in a dam in Orange – popular with children and fishermen – and also at Wentworth Falls country club’s private dam just two kilometers away”. Council declined the offer by ANSA and the NSW Council of Freshwater Anglers in June 2014. “It has not been for want of trying [to get the rings installed at the lake]. It’s ten minutes work,” Mr Konstantaras said.

“There’s been zero correspondence [from Blue Mountains council] ... and no news on the February 2016 decision. “Once we send out three or four emails and still get ‘no’, we move on to the next project. We’re a volunteer organisation and we don’t have time to chase things down.”

Following inquiries from the Gazette last week a council spokeswoman said the rings and seat were part of “larger civil works project around the dam spillway” and Mikey’s family had been notified of the delays. The rings would be anchored to the new works at an unconfirmed date, she said. But when the Gazette revealed ANSA NSW, who would be installing the rings free of charge and had no word from council, council said they would install the rings and the seat within a fortnight and had passed on this news to the family and ANSA. “The work has been planned in such a way that will allow for the easy and temporary removal of the seat when the civil works are done on the spillway,” she added.

*“Stan is kindly delivering the angel rings and associated apparatus by the end of this week.”
“It’s a good outcome, a brilliant outcome,” Mr Konstantaras said, who showed the Gazette the rings at their proposed new home on the weekend.*

*The rings have a long history of saving lives. In 1993 the life of a rockfishing angler was saved at Moes Rock, south of Jervis Bay by a life ring installed by a bereaved father who had lost his son who was rockfishing at Moes Rock at an earlier date.
ANSA has installed and maintains 131 rings in NSW at publicly accessible waterways and reports there have been 76 confirmed rescues using the rings.*

“And those rescues are just the ones we know about, confirmed by police and other emergency services,” ASNA’s executive officer John Burgess added.

Council will now manage the installation and maintenance of the rings.

Whilst the project has been in limbo for a while now due to the negotiations over insurance we still have been able to maintain a level of service and will continue to do so in 2017 / 2018.

Special Projects – Fishing 4 Therapy

As with previous years, 2016/2017 had its share of challenges and changes. Our focus is still on the main groups which are broken into the following categories: Autism (Cerebral Palsy & Down Syndrome); Acquired Brain injury (Stroke / Heart attack); Terminally Ill & Physical Rehabilitation

We also introduced a few extra speciality sessions which were more aimed at one on one sessions for those who were either not ready for group sessions or needed extra attention / confidence building or are not able to interact with others on a social level.

We continued to help with forms of Grief Counselling due to the loss of three individuals who were long term attendees, Blind adolescents; Aged care, Depression and providing a social outside experience for some. Our ABI group now has a regular attendee who used to be a Chef in a well known restaurant. He does not wish to fish but attends almost every session and now runs our BBQ which we have every other session, showing that you don't need to actually fish to gain the benefits from the programme.

Again we were able to participate in a public day at Centennial Park to show what we offer through the programme. We had gear was on display along with our two 300ltr therapy tanks and our new tank that holds approx 2000 litres of water. These were loaded with fish and turtles and offered the same hands on experience to the public that the regular attendee's have. The day was a huge success with a confirmed count of over 9000 people through our stand in a 6 hour period. A massive publicity win for ANSA NSW and F4T.

With our funding, we have met & finished Milestones 1 & 2 of our funding with Milestone 3 almost due. Our paths have crossed with a Psychologist who will possibly being helping with a study into the effects / outcomes for the programme on the attendees. Some of our attendees are still being combined into our General Public sessions and we find they are able to fish as equals against able body fisherman.

We have also introduced the "10 KEG CLUB". All attendees for the ABI sessions who catch and land a fish or 10kg or greater are entered into our new Elite Club. They are awarded a certificate and a Rapala Hat, not to mention having their photo posted in their Associations Newsletter and web page for maximum brag rights. To date we have 4 members who have now qualified for this.

I would also like to give a special thanks to the Sea Bee's Fishing Club for their generous donation of $1000 to the programme. The funds allowed for extra seating, repairs to the trailer scheduled for later in the year, extra specialty fishing outfits and some new custom made rods, extra seats and new fishing line etc. Their generosity and support is truly appreciated by all who attend.

Our newest hurdle is the impact from the introduction of the NDIS to all attendees. While we continue to provide the programme at no cost to the attendees, they must now make a payment to the carers who come with them, for transport or simply for providing the care for each session. To date they have all agreed to the extra costs so they can continue to come, but as their new budgets are reviewed this may change on individual cases.

F4T continues to run and grow mainly thanks to the volunteer help we receive from the regular helpers. In particular, Bill Harvey, who is always first to arrive & last to go and always bringing a spare cup for his coffee flask.

Special Projects – NEWTAG Report

NEWTAG has continued its amazing run this past year with the Mulloway Tagging Project and the Dave Irvine Memorial Snapper Tagging Project being the jewels in the NEWTAG crown.

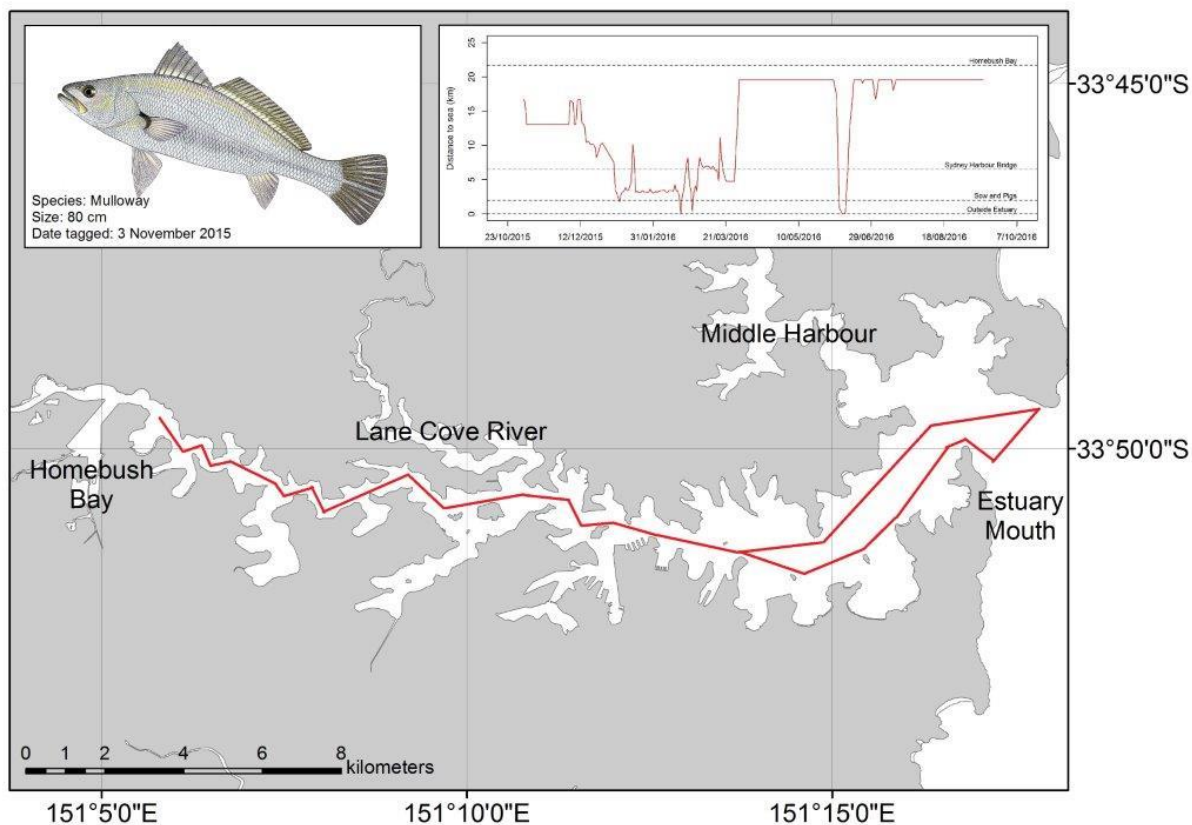

It is amazing to see how the tagging of large fish has been embraced by all sectors of the community and the ANSA NSW name is at the forefront of citizen science in NSW. This year we have also taken the next step beyond tagging by assisting DPI Fisheries in the capture of 17 mulloway in Sydney Harbour to surgically implant acoustic trackers. The tracking arrays are placed throughout the Harbour and the after 12 months the results were downloaded.

The results look a little mystifying when the data is presented in its raw form below but these represent the movements of 16 fish over a year and how far they moved from their capture location and when you take into account that each individual graph consists of up to 7000 data points you would be hard pressed to understand what is going on.

But now move forward and when you ask the gurus ( mainly Prof Matt Taylor ) from DPI Fisheries to decipher and join the dots you get something like this that makes perfect sense.

This is Mulloway No.19958 and its movements over a year and the track it mainly followed, time spent at certain locations and time spent in the area. NEWTAG is waiting for the other 15 fish to be mapped, but 19958 shows a distinct affinity for Sydney Harbour.

The NEWTAG Facebook page has been the communication portal of choice and the updates being shared are nothing short of amazing and almost instantaneous.

Nothing like two of our top taggers doing what they do best - tagging and releasing the majestic Mulloway 🐟
946 days ago on the 5/9/2014, Dan Selby tagged and released this beautiful fish of 103cm in the mighty Hawkesbury river.
Less than 2 hours ago Scott Purnell caught and re-released this same fish in the Hunter River on the mid north coast.
The fish was re-released at a very respectable 125cm
Dan and Scott are an integral of Mulloway research in NSW, their contributions to this program has been second to none.
ANSA Newtag thank you both !

Tagging

Overall Patterns

In the three years since March 2014, a total of 1822 mulloway have been tagged by participants in the NSW DPI - ANSA pilot mulloway tagging program. The vast majority have come from systems in close proximity to Sydney (Hawkesbury River, Sydney Harbour, Botany Bay), but fish have been tagged from the Tweed River in the north to Bega in the south (Table 1).

Table 1: Numbers of mulloway tagged from systems/locations on the NSW coast. The locations "North Coast", "Mid North Coast" and "South Coast" are combinations of various systems/locations in each of these three regions.

| System/Location                 | Number of mulloway tagged |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------|
| Yamba-Clarence River            | 115                       |
| Coffs Harbour                   | 94                        |
| North Coast                     | 40                        |

| Clyde River                     | 36                        |
| South Coast                     | 44                        |

Tagged fish have spanned the full size range of mulloway likely to be encountered by recreational fishers and have ranged from 35 cm up to 155.5 cm. Seventy percent of tagged mulloway have been between 60 and 85 cm, but more than 150 metre-plus fish have also been tagged (Figure 1). Included in these are 53 fish of over 120 cm (~17 kg), 30 fish larger than 130 cm (~21 kg) and 13 mulloway of 140 cm plus (~27 kg). The tagging of such good numbers of large fish is important because previous mulloway tagging has shown that larger fish are the most likely to move significant distances compared with smaller individuals.

Patterns by Latitude

If we split the coast up into 4 latitude zones - North (Tweed - Coffs Harbour), Mid North (South West Rocks - Newcastle), Central (Lake Macquarie - Port Hacking) and South (Wollongong - Bega), you can see that the sizes of tagged fish are reasonably similar between zones with most fish tagged between 60 and 85 cm and a small 'tail' of larger fish (Figure 2). The Northern zone was dominated by tagging of fish 60-65 cm, almost all of which came from the Clarence River. A high proportion of fish tagged from the Southern zone were 85-100 cm. Similarly, 110-125 cm individuals made a substantial contribution to tagged fish in the Mid North Zone. Fish larger than 110 cm contributed between 3 and 10% of tagged fish for all zones other than the Southern zone, where only a single 116 cm fish was tagged. The largest number of >110 cm fish came from the Central Zone (44), mainly because of the large numbers of fish tagged in this zone overall (~1200 fish).

Patterns by capture habitat

Far more estuary-caught fish (1549) have been donated compared with fish caught from breakwalls, rocks or the beach (249). Despite this, the proportions of sizes for both groups are very similar (Figure 4).

Figure 3: Size frequency distribution of mullet tagged as part of the NSW DPI - ANSA pilot mullet tagging program caught in estuaries (n=1549) or from the coast (beach, breakwall, rocks, n=249).

Recaptures

Overall Patterns

A total of 111 tagged mullet have been recaptured as part of the NSW DPI - ANSA pilot mullet tagging program representing a recapture rate of 6.1%. Not surprisingly, the most commonly recaptured length class of tagged fish was 65-95 cm (~70%) (Figure 4), the size range at which most fish were initially tagged (see Figure 1). Sixteen tagged metre-plus fish have been recaptured including three larger than 125 cm. The largest tagged mullet to be recaptured was 144 cm when tagged and 147 cm when recaptured 141 days later.

Dave Irvine Snapper Tagging Project 2016

Why Tag Snapper?

Snapper are one of the most important species to both commercial and recreational fisheries in NSW. It is therefore critical that as much biological and fishery data as possible be collected in order to monitor the health of the stock and manage it for future long term sustainability. Basic biological data (growth and reproduction) for snapper is routinely collected via monitoring of commercial catches and The NSW Research Angler Program (recreational catches). Another crucial data requirement concerns the migratory movements, growth and post-release survival of the species. A tagging program for snapper in NSW would provide such data and if run through the NSW Research Angler Program, would provide an opportunity for passionate recreational fishers to make an important contribution to the ongoing monitoring of the snapper stock in NSW.

Having the opportunity to tag snapper on a specific weekend every year with the help of some very talented and serious snapper anglers will ensure consistent data collection, great post survival of these valuable fish. The tagging data is used by scientists to study the lives and habits of these fish species. The migratory habits of the tagged fish are observed by measuring the distance and direction travelled between tagging and recapture, and this can be linked with environmental factors. Growth patterns are also monitored. The observations also enable scientists to study the structure of fish stocks and assess whether there is any mixing between populations that are geographically distant from one another. This information is vital to improve the understanding and management of this valuable species.

Last Year's Results:

Following is a small summary of the NSW RAP-ANSA Tagging Project's brief foray into snapper tagging the 2016 Dave Irvine Memorial Snapper Classic in August 2016.

Some great winter weather and 36 very capable anglers resulted in a total of 107 snapper ranging in size from 32 up to a whopping 89.5 cm total length being tagged over the two day comp with an average size of 66 cm! As can be seen from the below graph, this average was driven to such an impressive size by the fact that 77% of the tagged fish were larger than 60 cm. All bar four fish were caught using a variety of lures with soft plastics proving particularly effective and resulting in the vast majority of fish being released in excellent condition. Sami Omari was the number one tagger for the 2016 comp with 7 fish and the largest fish, at 89.5 cm, was tagged by Ryan Camlin. To date, a single recapture has been reported with a 63 cm fish tagged during the comp by Brent Hancock recaptured 17 days later. An awesome effort from all the taggers involved for producing such a great result.

It is hoped that this tagging information will be used to obtain information on the biology (distribution, movement, growth, exploitation) of snapper to encourage fishers to participate in the management of the fishery. When a tagged fish is recaptured, catch information is linked to the original tag and release and compared to the recapture information. We need more fish tagged and recaptured in 2017!

ANSA NSW and NEWTAG will continue to look at more ways of incorporating citizen science into its fishing repertoire and should also look at pioneering some other research opportunities, however small to get the ball rolling. Small satellite tagging of fish like snapper and mulloway, larger species like Broadbill, tagging in sanctuary zones, something ANSA NSW has pushed and we could also deploy small sat tags in SZ and outside, other issues to do with Barotrauma that we could look at and again train a few anglers to take it to the next level, I am sure we could find some support out there to sample DNA or sample test blood in 2017 / 2018, we will be looking at every aspect of citizen science in the coming year.

Roy Winter Memorial Trophy

Excellence in Rock Fishing

The inception of the Roy Winter Memorial Trophy occurred during the mid 1970's when Mr and Mrs Winter presented the Perpetual Trophy to ANSA in memory of their son Roy who passed away in his early 20's before he could achieve his fishing goals.

The trophy is not awarded as a matter of course each year but rather only when, if in the Committee's opinion, a significant capture has been made from the rocks during the competition year. Entries are not called for with the winners name usually obtained from examining all rock captures made from the 12 Month Competition.
